

Social Science Disciplines

Family Studies

An interdisciplinary study that integrates all of the social sciences

Cultural Anthropology is the study of human behaviour in cultures

- the arts, beliefs, habits, institutions and customs or characteristics of a specific group or nation
- comparing different cultures
- living in and studying a culture

Psychology is the study of human individuals and behaviour based on looking at

- mental processes
- how our brains work
- individual development
- personalities
- individual behaviour

Sociology is the study of people in social groupings such as families and society

- social facts and trends are studied
- social institutions and structures
- theories about social interactions

